Soil borings indicate possible landfill sites

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors may have another landfill site.

The board has received a preliminary report from the Mississippi Bureau of Geology regarding soil borings on several alternative sites.

Four of the five sites are promising, County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson said.

According to Johnson, the county has until Nov. 31 to close its present landfill, which is located in Catahoula on leased NASA-owned land in the John C. Stennis Space Center Buffer Zone.

That landfill occupies only part of a 21-acre site, but state and federal regulations for landfills have changed since it was first constructed and soil borings on the remaining acres have indicated that the rest of the site can not meet permit specifications.

Johnson said the high water table in the southern end of the county makes that area so unlikely to be eligible for a permit that the 11 test borings were all done north of Interstate 10. They cost the county a total of $5,075.

The best sites were in Lee town, Sandy Creek Community, and two sites just north of Kiln-Picayune Road.

Johnson said the next step in the process is to find a consultant to assist the county with interpretation of the report and preparation of permit applications.

At the same board meeting, the supervisors declined bids for an alternative to a landfill until a permit can be obtained.

The permitting process can take anywhere from six months to two years, according to a state official who recently addressed the board.

The supervisors had advertised for a dumpster system, in which a contractor would place dumpsters at various collection points in the county and would pick up the contents at two or three regular intervals each week. Disposal of the waste would then become the responsibility of the contractor.

The board has consulted with a number of waste haulers and disposal firms to collect information on short-term and long-term solutions to the county's waste disposal problems.

According to Board President Ronald Cuyat, the bidding will be re-advertised because the board members have learned of several items they feel should be added to the specifications.

The county is still looking at the possibility of joining Pearl River County, which has no landfill, in a long-term solution.

The next board of supervisors meeting will be 9 a.m. Friday.

Loyola Jazz Band concert dedicated to Latham family

The free community concert scheduled for next Wednesday, Oct. 12, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Business Association will be held at City Hall Park at 6:30 p.m. and features the famed Loyola Jazz Band and its Big Band Sounds.

This concert will be dedicated to local residents Ann and Terry Latham, who have been leaders in the community work of the Business Association since its inception. Association spokesmen cited the success of its Beachfront Festival being due to the efforts of Senior Chief Terry Latham and his wife, Ann. The concert represents an opportunity for the association to show its appreciation to the Lathams who unfortunately will leave the area this week.

Latham and his family have been transferred to Pensacola, where he assumes duties aboard the USS Lexington. The association will honor the Latham family, Ann, Terry and their three children, Susan, Valerie and Jay at the concert Wednesday night.

Food and drink will be available on the grounds. Folks are encouraged to bring their lawn chairs or ground cover and relax at this community get-together.

In case of rain, the concert will be in the Valena C. Jones gym on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis.

Klan may march today in Bay

BY D.C. HARVILL

Bay St. Louis' mayor and city council Saturday morning, in the form of a resolution, expressed their opposition to the Christian Knights of the Ku Klux Klan's march through the streets of Bay St. Louis planned for this afternoon.

However, the council acknowledging the right to assemble peacefully guaranteed to everyone by the First Amendment, regardless of their views, conceded that they could not stop the white supremacist organization from staging the "streetwalk."

The resolution stated that under section 22-133 of the Bay St. Louis code of ordinances, which gives the city the right to refuse a permit for activities

Coast Electric schedules annual members meeting

Coast Electric Power Association has scheduled its annual members meeting for Thursday, Oct. 13 at the Hancock County Fairgrounds Building on Longfellow Road in Bay St. Louis.

General manager Robert Occhi said, "Annual meetings help our members become more familiar with the operation of their member-owned power association. We encourage members to attend this year's meeting and take advantage of this unique benefit of membership."

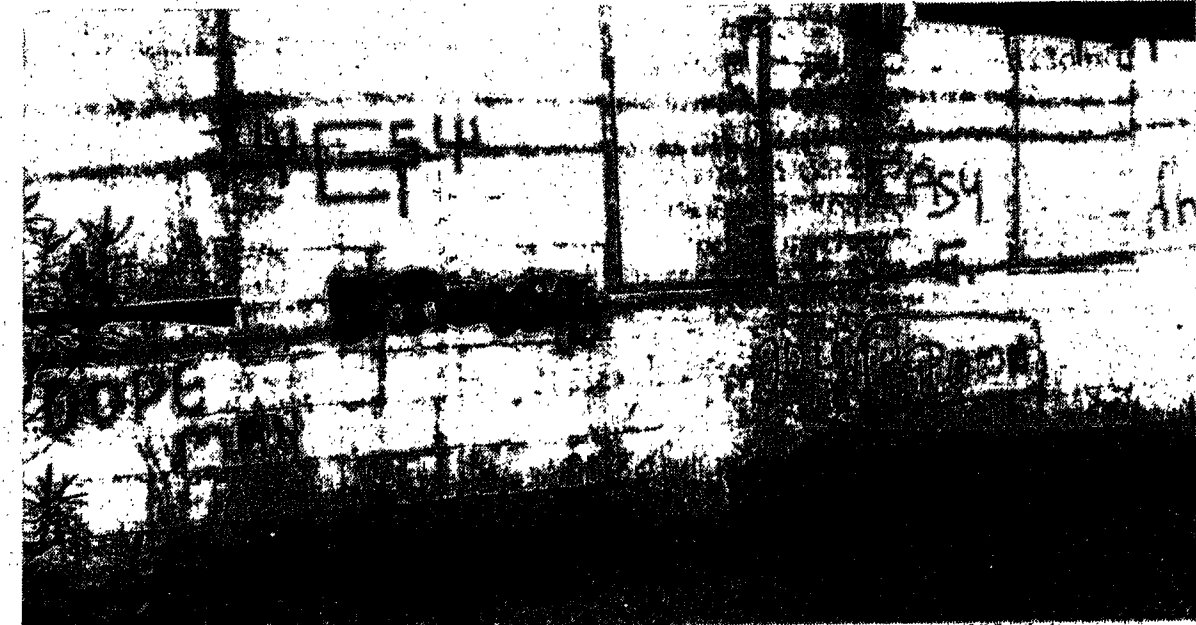

Registrations will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 7 p.m. The general business session will start at 7:15 p.m., followed by reports from chairman and officers of the board.

All registered members attending the meeting are eligible for the drawing of door prizes and several grand prizes. Items to be given away include a microwave oven, a VCR, three ceiling fans and two food processors.

Any Coast Electric member interested in attending the meeting who may need directions to the meeting site may contact their local Coast Electric office for assistance.

APARTMENT FIRE—Bay St. Louis Firefighter Pamela SanFillippo leaves Bay Royale Apartment No. 4 Saturday morning for a new tank of air while quelling a fire which, according to Chief Andrew Lizana, began in a closet. There were six persons in the apartment when the fire began, three adults, two infants and a four-year-old boy, Bay Patrolman Shane Corr stated. Capt. Mike Willumittis said, flames were coming out of the front door of the apartment when he and SanFillippo arrived at the scene and fire damage was limited to the living room with smoke damage throughout the apartment. Lizana said a mother and a baby were upstairs when the fire began, and a baby sitter climbed the burning stairs to awaken her. The six occupants had to use the back door as an escape route. The origin of the fire is under investigation, Lizana said. There were no reported injuries. Firefighter Arthur Farve assisted Lizana, Willumittis and SanFillippo. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

MEMBERS STEAMED—Members of the Eclipse Lodge No. 4004 Odd Fellows and Household of Ruth, Pearlinton, were steamed Saturday morning when they discovered their building covered with graffiti. The lodge building, which was rebuilt in 1950, is located one block off Highway 604. Mrs. Shirley Giles Merritt, said the building is also used for many of the community's activities and she didn't know why anyone would do such an act. She said the incident apparently happened between 4 and 5 a.m. Saturday and is being investigated by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Florida man charged with drug possession

BY DENA BISNETTE
A Florida man, stopped for speeding in Hancock County, has been jailed on a charge of possession of cocaine.

State Trooper Daryl Deschamp said he stopped Michael E. McAndrew of Winter Park, Fla., Tuesday afternoon when he spotted him driving west at about 72 m.p.h. in a 65 m.p.h. zone of Interstate 10.

The trooper said that when he pulled McAndrew over at the Diamondhead exit, he approached the car to talk with the suspect and saw a small bag of marijuana and drug paraphernalia lying in the passenger side floorboard.

Deschamp said about a gram of cocaine was found inside a carrying bag that was in the same part of the car, which McAndrew told authorities he had borrowed from a Winter Park woman.

He also charged McAndrew with speeding and driving on a suspended driver's license.

Deschamp was assisted by Deputy George Burleson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Justice Court Judge Joseph Dobson set bond at $7,000.

CONSERVATIVE

William F. Buckley Jr.'s "Firing Line" is renowned as a forum for debate. Buckley and a stellar panel of Republicans and Democrats square off to debate domestic issues when ETV presents a "Firing Line Special Debate."

Resolved: Conservatives Are Better Able Than Liberals to Run the Country for the Next four years, at 1 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 9 on Mississippi ETV, pits Buckley, Jeane Kirkpatrick and Rep. Jack Kemp (R-New York) against George McGovern, Gary Hart and Rep. Patricia Schroder (D-Colorado).

Ladner joins race for Beat 3

Margaret Ladner of Standard Community has announced her candidacy for Hancock County supervisor in Beat Three.

Ladner, 40, is a graduate of Poplarville High School and Phillips Business College. Her work experience includes owning and operating the Dedeaux Community Grocery for 12 years as well as her current employment with Enco Environmental Services, where she has served for two years as an administrative assistant.

The candidate has been married to Roger Dale Ladner for 21 years and they have two sons, Bradley Paul Ladner, 20, and Jody Dale Ladner, 14. They are members of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Dedeaux.

"I am offering myself as a candidate for the office of supervisor because I feel that my business experience and knowledge of county government will help me perform the job of supervisor that citizen expect and deserve," Ladner said.

"I feel that we need to look closely at the operation and budget of each department of county government. We have to pursue ways and means to make government operate more efficiently, rather than turning to the hard-working taxpayers every time someone suggests an increase is needed."

"I would not vote for any tax increase. Any expansion of the county budget would have to come from new construction added to the tax rolls," she stated.

"We have some major problems facing us, the people of Hancock County, such as beach replenishment, restoration of the beach road, disposal of solid waste, wastewater, a new building for at least five county agencies and blacktopping the remaining dirt roads throughout the county—these are all big ticket items."

"I feel that if we seek state and federal assistance and come up with comprehensive plans, creative and long-range financing, these problems that have plagued us for so long can be resolved in the near future."

"I would like the opportunity to work for a better lifestyle for our senior citizens, a better education for all our children, continue to upgrade our hospital and support law enforcement," the candidate added.

"We now have two industrial parks complete with utilities, one with access to water and the other adjacent to the county airport. I feel that we have an excellent opportunity now to lure industry to the county so that all our citizens can be assured of a job with good pay."

Side Street Crossings

By Dena Bisnette

The other night one of my police officer friends dropped by for coffee and we chatted about, among other things, the young Satan-worshiper who was charged with setting the St. Joseph Academy Gym fire.

The fire was a tragedy that wiped out a lot of memories for the people who had attended St. Joseph or events in the gym, but I don't think it's as much of a tragedy as a teenager who worships the devil.

I don't have any kids, but if I did, I think I'd have a hard time raising them in this world we have today. I wonder why children get involved in such wild things.

I was a kid once, and my idea of wild things to do was a lot different from what teenagers do now. My generation's idea of being bad was doing something like strapping a junk mattress to the front of an old car and knocking down all the garbage cans on the street where the rich kids lived, or maybe dating somebody your parents couldn't stand or telling lies.

People concerned with the younger generation bust their tails trying to provide things for kids to do, but somehow some of our young people still miss out or refuse to participate.

We had the school's extra-curricular things like band, organized sports like Little League and Dixie Youth baseball, scouting, summer day camps and similar programs to keep us busy.

Now there are even more activities, like soccer, which wasn't popular yet, or expanded versions of the old ones. Some, like baseball, which I faked a lack of interest in yet secretly wished I could play, were once for boys only and have since opened to girls.

After age 16, though, these activities provide less and less variety and a child must turn, in many cases, to his school or church or to a private hobby to keep himself busy.

What happened to kids? I'm totally bewildered with the "bad" kids like the vandals and cult members, but even the good kids mystify me.

The students I overhear at the high schools are so serious now.

Instead of what color lipstick matches their outfits, girls talk about serious organizations like Students Against Drunken Driving or about who's not using birth control but needs it. The boys still talk about girls and cars, but I also hear them worrying about what career market will still be open when they get out of college and about the inadequacies of the "Just Say No" campaign against drugs.

I really appreciate the fact that these children are so much more socially aware and for the most part, concerned about their peers and communities than we were but at the same time I feel they're growing up too fast.

Even the smaller children are affected. My generation spent summers with bicycles and orange-crate racers, yoyos, the latest toy fad, card tricks and other simpler amusements.

Today's kids scare the daylights out of me because they can operate my computer better than I can, they can cook in microwave ovens, fads last only a week or two, and they're able to talk to me about greenhouse effects and AIDS. Is that a child, or a smaller model of a grown-up person?

Then you have the kids who take the dark side of life. You might see them anywhere, but you see the luckier ones at the Youth Court next door to my office.

The drug problem is everywhere. Have I been brainwashed by society to think it wasn't as bad as when I was in school, when a "good" kid only knew about a dozen drug users personally and when the chosen drugs of abuse were beer and marijuana, not cocaine or Ecstasy?

There is no discrimination among age groups either. One day I saw two kids in a fast-food joint wearing jackets with symbols on them that I recognized from a vandalism story. They were demonic symbols, and these kids couldn't have been

Society seeks shut-ins for visitation program

BY D.C. HARVILL

The St. Vincent de Paul Society believes people shouldn't be shut-off from the world just because they are confined to their homes and, with the help of the St. Stanislaus Key Club, intends to do something about it.

The society hopes to have someone visit each Hancock County shut-in at least once every three months. In order to do so they are compiling a list of county residents who are confined to their homes.

"There are many shut-ins in Hancock County, of all ages, some of whom have no relatives and haven't had a visitor in several years," project coordinator Jay Fleuriot said.

With the help of Meals-On-Wheels, Senior Citizens and other agencies that serve shut-ins, a partial list already has been compiled but there are many others in the county who aren't on the list, according to Fleuriot.

"We are asking everyone confined to their home, or anyone knowing someone who is, to contact the St. Vincent de Paul Society at 467-0703," Fleuriot said.

To assist with the visitations, the society has enlisted the help of the St. Stanislaus Key Club.

The club, a branch of the Kiwanas, is a charity organization whose goal is to help in the community and to show that kids do not just do bad things, according to club President Mickey Lagasse.

When the list is completed it also will be used by the Hancock County Red Cross and Civil Defense so that, in event of an evacuation, they will know who is unable to leave their homes on their own, any relatives with whom they might stay and any medications or special care they will require if a shelter stay is necessary, according to Fleuriot.

that could create a public disturbance, the city does not have to grant a permit for the proposed march.

But the resolution also recognizes that under the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States the group could not be prevented from marching.

"They have filed everything required under our ordinance. The attorney general's office says we can't deny them a permit, but can regulate them for public safety. Any restrictions we place on them must be fair and reasonable, however, Mayor Victor Frankiewicz said.

The group had been asked not to march and that they said they would comply, according to the mayor.

Bay Police Chief Ray Murphy and Frankiewicz informed the council that if they did not allow the group to march in Bay St. Louis, the city could be sued for up to $200,000 for violating their Constitutional rights.

After much debate about the city's alternatives, the council, with members Charles Johnson and Lisa Coward in opposition, passed the resolution in order to avoid any legal action against the city, in effect allowing the group to march.

The council members were unanimous, however, in stating their disapproval of the march and the prejudices represented by the Klan.

"The Constitution was written long before the KKK was created and I don't think it was written to protect people like them. I want the public to know we are opposed to their marching here," District 4 Councilman John Wilkerson said.

more than 12 year old. Maybe some of you people who have children can tell me what happened to our kids.

I missed something somewhere along the way, and whatever it was changed our young people in what I see as a sad way—they've been robbed of several years of being children, of having life's lesser worries about math tests and batting averages and basic fun. I don't think it's fair to them to make them grow up before their times.

EDITORIAL

Let the Klan march alone

The Ku Klux Klan plans to march in Bay St. Louis today, with an announced intention of recruiting new members.

While we support their First Amendment right to assemble peaceably, just as we would any other group, we cannot condone their march because we do not believe they, a group from outside Hancock County, have the best interests of our community in mind.

The KKK historically has been an agent of racial discontent and harassment, fostering hatred and violence against not only blacks, but also Catholics and Jews.

We in Hancock County, however, have enjoyed a tradition of harmonious co-existence between races, of blacks and whites living and working side by side as neighbors and friends.

Given the threat to this rare and precious balance in our community, not only do we not condone the Klan's action, we hold it in contempt.

The Bay St. Louis City Council at a special meeting Saturday morning, with great reluctance, passed a resolution stating that under a city ordinance regulating activities which threaten the safety of the public, they do not have to issue the group a parade permit.

However, the higher authority of both the Mississippi and U.S. Constitutions supersede the ordinance, giving the group the right to march.

The resolution passed with two dissenting votes, but all the councilmen went on record as being adamantly opposed to the march and the prejudicial and hate-filled credo of the Klan.

We fully concur with their opinions.

In conjunction with the elected leaders of this community, we firmly believe the most effective defense against this organization, noted for the creation of racial discord, is to ignore it—letting them march through empty streets. An appearance without an audience is as good as no appearance at all.

The strength of this community lies in our unity and love and respect for one another, regardless of race, color, creed or personal beliefs. Any attempt, by any faction, to destroy that which we hold so dearly should meet with nothing but failure.

The President's Column

Peace through strength advocated by Reagan

Recently, I had the honor of representing you and our country when I appeared before the General Assembly of the United Nations.

It was my seventh and final appearance as President before the U.S. and on each of those occasions, as with each time I have represented America in my trips overseas—whether to the Berlin Wall or the demilitarized zone in Korea, to the canals of Venice or the Palace of Versailles in France, to the Great Hall of the People in Beijing, or St. George's Hall in Moscow—whenever I have carried our flag into meetings with foreign leaders, I have felt a special pride. We Americans have so much of which to be proud, so much that others can only dream of—all our freedom and our democracy—and we stand for so much that is good and decent and honorable in the world.

When I stepped up to the podium at the U.N., I saw before me the representatives of nearly all the countries on Earth. Some—like the Western European nations, Canada and Japan—are long-standing democracies, major industrial powers, and good friends. Others—like the Philippines, South Korea, and many countries in Latin America—are fledgling democracies with economies that hold great promise, even if, as is the case in the Philippines right now, those economies are troubled. Others are struggling toward democracy, or economic strength, or both. And too many others live in lands that know neither.

My message this year to the delegates of the United Nations was a message of hope. For eight years, around our nation and around the world, I have been saying that the key to world peace and human freedom is the strength and determination of the great democracies. This year, as we survey the scene one last time, we can see that our strength has indeed proven to be the engine of peace and hope in the world.

Nowhere is this clearer than in U.S.-Soviet relations. Just eight years ago our critics at home were calling our plans to restore America's strength a threat to world peace. These were often the same people who later criticized our rescue mission in Grenada, when we freed that tiny island nation from the grip of a Communist tyranny, or who were to condemn our strike against Qadhafi's Libya.

And, in the fall of 1983, when the Soviets walked out of the intermediate-range nuclear force talks in Geneva, many of these same critics said we were to blame. Our firm stance in negotiations precipitated the breakdown in the talks, they said. And they criticized our "zero option" proposal that called for the elimination of an entire class of U.S. and Soviet ballistic missiles. They said it was unrealistic, and a sign that we were not serious about arms reductions.

Well, as you know, we continued to hold firm, and finally the Soviets returned to the bargaining table. Just a few months ago Soviet General Secretary Gorbachev and I stood in the gilded splendor of one of the Kremlin's most splendid rooms and exchanged the instruments of ratification for the INF Treaty, a Treaty that will for the first time in history eliminate an entire class of U.S. and Soviet nuclear missiles.

At the U.N., I talked about this and other successes for our philosophy of peace through strength. A firm show of strength by America and its allies has kept the vital international shipping lanes of the Persian Gulf open and was a key factor in pushing one of the bloodiest wars of this century to a cease-fire.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bay mayor, council stand opposed to KKK

To the editor:

This city has enjoyed a long history of unity. Bay St. Louis did not wait for federal officials to force civil rights on the community; many of our citizens' leadership roles brought the community together. We were among the first in the South to establish a Headstart program for children of all races. We were the first city in Mississippi to change to a form of government to provide for black representation on the city council; that change was made in 1977 with strong support from voters of all races.

As elected officials, we are different: catholic and protestant, white and black, male and female. However, we are united in our opposition to the Ku Klux Klan and everything it stands for. Regardless of our personal opinions, we are sworn to uphold the constitution which allows the Klan to march here. At the same time, we must speak out as citizens about the situation.

The Klan is nothing but an extremist organization promoting terrorism, violence, and murder throughout the South.

It's members are responsible for untold misery among the blacks of our state. The racist attitude of this group continues to give Mississippi a bad reputation. We condemn it as an abomination which strikes at the most fundamental principles of our democracy.

We want to congratulate the citizens of Bay St. Louis for how you have handled the proposed Klan march. The community has been totally unified in its opposition to the Klan. The strength of this city cannot be shaken by a group of out of town hate-mongering fanatics. We are proud to represent a city which won't let itself be dragged down by racism.

Sincerely yours:

Superintendent's opinion challenged by petitioner

To the Editor,

Sunday, Oct. 2, 1988 The Sea Coast Echo quotes Superintendent Randolph as saying, "the state school board has responded to the petitions with a letter."

This is untrue and I challenge Superintendent Randolph to submit a copy of the letter as proof of said statement.

We have not contacted the state school board about the petitions nor have we submitted anything pertaining to the petitions to them. How could they respond to the petitions? He further states that "they would take no further action on the matter." This is truly misleading.

I called Superintendent Randolph at home Sunday morning, Oct. 2, on this matter. His words were "all he had received was a copy of the letter the state school board had wrote to me, and you might read anything in The Sea Coast Echo." The letter did not state anything concerning a response to the petitions nor did it state they would take no further action on the matter.

I have furnished The Sea Coast Echo a copy of the above mentioned letter as proof that the statement was not true and was very misleading. I can't understand Superintendent Randolph for wanting to hinder or prevent the concerned citizens from signing the petitions that are meant to protect the lives of our children, grandchildren and future children of this county.

The signatures on the petitions are of great value in protecting the lives of our children. Please call any of these numbers: 255-7714, 255-7415, 533-7195 and 798-1109 and be a part of "We, the Concerned Citizens, who want to protect our children."

Thank you all very much,

MEC endorses unit system

The people of Mississippi have been granted the unique opportunity to select the type of government they would like to see operate in their county. If the voters take time to examine the evidence, we should have 82 counties in Mississippi that operate under the unit system.

One of the main arguments against the unit system is that supervisors will lose contact with their constituents. Under the unit system, supervisors will no longer be responsible for road maintenance. What this means is that supervisors will not have to supervise road maintenance projects and will, in fact, have more time for constituents. So, the unit system should make the supervisor

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Don't forget the Our Lady Academy's International Food Fest which continues through today. The Food Fest is on U.S.-90 and Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis and begins at noon.

In addition to good foods, there is also some very good free entertainment.

Foods with French, Greek, Italian, Oriental, Western, Cajun, American, and Mexican flavors will be on hand in addition to seafoods.

It is hoped there will be a good turnout for this special benefit for Our Lady Academy.

Jane and I will be there trying out the special foods we like.

Next Saturday will be the big finale for the City of Waveland's Centennial Celebration.

Among the festivities scheduled for Saturday will be a parade through the streets of Waveland.

The parade will include bands, marching groups, floats, bicycles, organizations, businesses, Boy and Girl Scout Troops, individuals, political leaders and more.

A big Red Beans & Rice dinner for $1 with Cokes at 5¢ and Beer at 25¢ will run from 2 to 6 p.m. at the Legion Home.

Live entertainment by Bo and Dee is scheduled from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Legion Home on Coleman Avenue.

A city only celebrates a Centennial one time, and Waveland Mayor John Longo and Aldermen invite everyone to come help them celebrate.

A big Fireworks Display is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. at the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier, so you can bet it will be a day of many events.

There are a few of us around who can remember when Big Bands were popular in America, and many of us still like to listen to the music.

Wednesday night at the Bay St. Louis City Hall Park, Loyola's Big Band Sound will be offering a Free Concert, courtesy of the Bay St. Louis Business Association.

Music is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. and we are hoping there will be many folks on the grounds of City Hall.

This is not the first concert which has been brought to residents by the Bay St. Louis Business Association and is free to the public.

We hope to see you at the concert.

On Wednesday there will be a very important Blood Drawing at the Bay St. Louis American Legion Post on Green Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

The drawing will be from 2 to 8 p.m. for the Hancock County Blood Bank by the American Red Cross' Mobile Unit. The drawing has a goal of 100 units, John D. Rutherford, chairman said.

One of the reasons this blood drawing is important is because one resident of Hancock County in a couple of months has used over 65 units of blood alone.

This is not to mention many other units which have been used since the last drawing.

We know there are some folks in the area who have given gallons of blood over the years, but many of these donors are not able to donate now because of age, or sickness.

There is always a need for new people to donate blood and we hope Wednesday's drive will be successful.

We have many doctors, nurses and volunteers who help with the drawing and want to take this opportunity to thank them and those who donate blood.

Fifty years is a very long time and on Thursday, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club will celebrate a 50 year anniversary.

And just think, two of the founding members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club are expected to be among those participating in the celebration.

Mrs. Waldo Otis and Mrs. Omer DeBever were among those who helped form the organization in 1938.

The celebration gets underway at 2 p.m. at the Garden Club's home, 114 Leonhard Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

more accessible to those he serves.

Another argument offered against the unit system is the cost of the transition from the 'beat' system to the unit system. This was a major concern to legislators during the special session as they considered the resources of smaller counties. There is no reason for concern now. The Legislature included provisions in the bill designed to keep transition costs down. So, when the full unit system is implemented by county voters, the cost of the switch will be minimal.

The choice is clear. Vote for county unit on November 8.

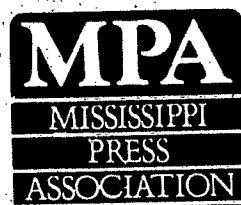

From Cambodia to Afghanistan to Angola, our strength, our assistance to those who would fight for freedom, has given both peace and freedom a new breath of life, and given the people of those countries new hope. Yes, the world today is filled with realistic hopes for peace and freedom that would have seemed totally utopian just eight years ago. After all, eight years ago, who would have thought that a President of the United States could stand before an assembly of students in the Soviet Union and speak to them about the wonders of freedom?

The great question now is, what next? Where does the world go in the next eight and the next 80 years? What are the steps we might take toward a safer, better, freer world?

One thing is certain. If we are to continue to advance world peace and human freedom, America must remain strong. We must turn a deaf ear to those born-again patriots who talk about strength while serving up the same old menu of weakness. If we have learned anything

Bay High trounces Long Beach 34-10, win at homecoming

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Bay High Tigers, clearing up a few of the problems that have plagued them this season, trounced the Long Beach Bearcats Friday night for a 34-10 homecoming victory.

The Tigers, in their second win of the season, fought Long Beach to the last five seconds of the game, grabbing a Bearcat fumble in the endzone to prevent a last-minute touchdown with only five seconds to go.

Their effort pleased Bay High Head Coach Bob Lumpkin, who attributed the win largely to improved execution and defense.

"Our kids played hard. This is an emotional game. We didn't really get any breaks but we made a few breaks for ourselves by executing right, for a change," the coach said.

"All in all, we played real hard, but we also played a little bit better defensively than we have been. We hit better and we hustled better. We were faced with a lot of sets and we adapted well."

"Our offensive line was really good. They contributed some fine blocking."

Running back Darrin Washington, who led the Tigers in scoring Friday with four touchdowns, was so impressed with the blocking he was getting that he took time out during the fourth quarter to ask, "Can you put in a thank you from the backs to the line for the great blocking tonight?"

The blocking Washington was getting showed up in Bay High's first series when he started racking up the points with a scoring run from his own territory on a second down play.

Heath Hopgood contributed a PAT kick for a 7-0 lead with 8:46 left in the first quarter.

Long Beach then recovered a fumble on their own 20 to start a scoring drive, but when they took to the air on the very next play Bay High's Alvin Dedeaux snatched the ball out of the air.

It landed next in the hands of Thomas Brink, but the Tigers lost that touchdown to an interference penalty.

Long Beach put their first points on the board with a field goal by Timmy Hammonds, leaving the Bearcats behind 7-3 with 9:46 left in the first quarter.

The margin was too close for Tiger tastes, so quarterback Charlie Mitchell handed off to Washington again. Washington dashed 80 yards past Long Beach defenders for his second touchdown.

Joel Duncan's kick increased the score to 14-3 with 9:32 in the second quarter.

Another Tiger veteran, Travis Haynes, took his turn at the goal next, scoring on a short run up the middle. Another kick boosted the score to 21-3.

With only 20 seconds left in the first half, Mitchell dropped back to pass, throwing to Washington for long yardage and another touchdown.

An aerial attempt for a two point conversion fell incomplete, leaving Bay High with a 27-3 lead at the halftime buzzer.

In third quarter action with 6:54 on the clock, the Tigers shut down a Bearcat drive when guard Brian Favre got every lineman's dream—his hands on the football—with an interception. A few minutes later, the Tigers handed off to Washington again.

Washington went for long yardage and six more points, then Duncan added a successful PAT kick for a 34-3 lead with 3:51 left in the third.

In the fourth quarter, Long Beach fought the Tigers down toward the goal line, finally scoring again on a short run by Billy Pain. The kick was good but the Bearcats were still left trailing, 34-10. Even halting a Tiger drive with an interception was not enough due to the Tiger's endzone fumble recovery.

Next week, Bay High has an open date, which Lumpkin said will be used to heal from injuries and prepare for the school's last three and hardest games—St. Martin, Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus.

Hawks bust St. Martin in Homecoming action

BY D.C. HARVILL
The Hancock North Central Hawks in their homecoming and first district game Friday night shutout the St. Martin Yellowjackets 26-0.

Terrance Goff, the "Freshman Flash," put the Hawks on the board early in the first quarter with a blazing, 59-yard touchdown run. The extra point attempt was no good, giving the Hawks a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter quarterback Jeff Moran proved he can be quick on his feet, when he scrambled for a touchdown then found the endzone a second time for a two point conversion. The Hawks closed the first half, 14-0.

During half-time festivities, senior Jill Forrest, daughter of Tom and Elaine Forrest, was crowned homecoming queen.

The only serious threat by the Yellowjackets came in the third quarter when they drove the ball down to the Hawks 1-yard line, but Hancock's defense, was able to keep them out of the endzone.

Fourth quarter action saw Goff breeze past Yellowjacket defenders to take the Hawks to a 20-0 lead. The PAT was no good.

Then with his third TD of the game, Goff, led the Hawks to a 26-0 final score.

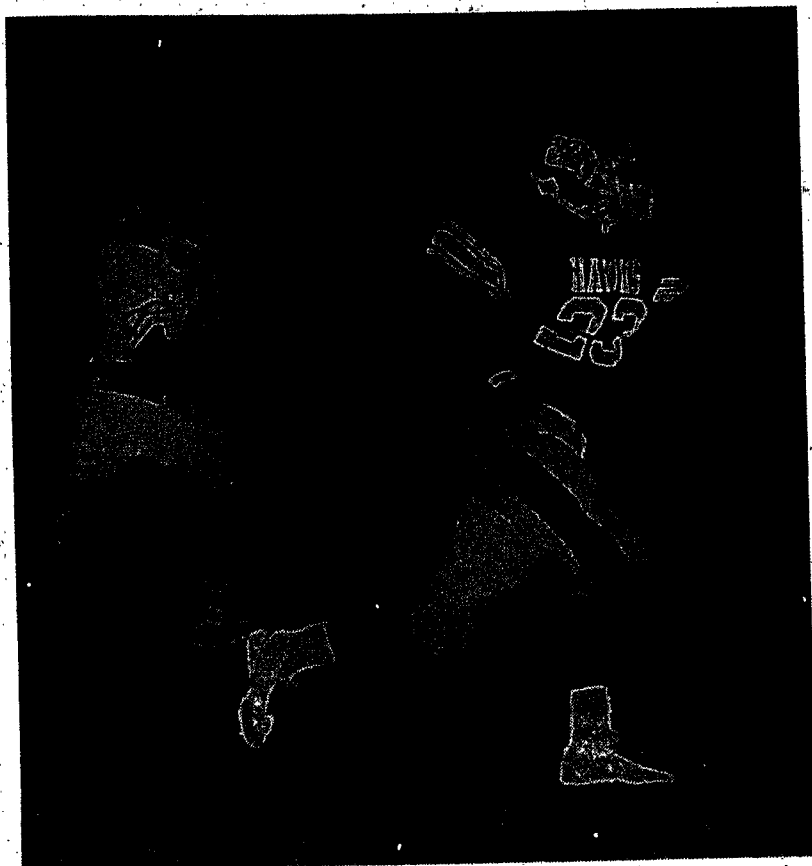

"We were in a struggle all night, we looked sluggish. We played much better in the second half than in the first, Hawks' Head Coach Irving Favre said.

"We had to make a few adjustments the second half. We had to go back to the basics. It was a rough physical ballgame. We moved the ball real good. And that's the real key. We stand - felt great. Good. Favre said.

The Hawks' next game will be Friday night at Long Beach. Kickoff is at 7:30.

Rocks lose close game against Poplarville

For the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws it was almost a case of "Deja Vu" as they struggled for a last-minute win over the visiting Poplarville Hornets Friday night at Rockchaw Stadium. The Rocks lost another close one 20-18.

Last week against the Hancock North Central Hawks, the Rockchaws had fallen 26-23 in a last-ditch effort for a touch down that would have won the game.

With only 56 seconds left in the game, the Poplarville Hornets came from behind to top the Rocks 20-18 with a TD and point after.

Carrying on the Rocks final reception, Shannon Garrett moved the ball to the Stanislaus 24. And then, snagging a pass from Rock quarterback Cedric Smith, Garrett moved the ball to his own 40-yard line.

With 29 seconds left, Rock tailback Gino Ascani moved the ball to the 44.

But on the next play, it was all over for the SSC Rockchaws. With 11 seconds to go, Poplarville halfback Chris Mixon intercepted a long Smith pass, and the Hornets ran out the clock for the win.

For the Rockchaws, Friday's loss to the Hornets dropped them to a 2-3 season with Homecoming on tap for next week.

In what was a contest between two evenly-matched teams, the difference eventually came down to missed and made point after attempts.

Rock kicker Scott Heitzman missed his first PAT attempt, and the Rockchaws' try at a two-pointer failed after their second goal. And again, after their third TD, the Rockchaws failed on a pass play for two.

In the end, two successful Hornet points after spelled the difference in the 20-18 outcome.

Receiving on the opening kickoff, the Hornets moved the ball to the Rock 40 on two series, but the Stanislaus defense held and the home team took over after a punt into the end zone on their own 20.

After a short run by Gino Ascani, Shannon Garrett connected on a Cedric Smith pass to move the ball to the SSC 33 good for a first down.

On the next play, Scott Heitzmann caught the Smith pass and powered a run to the Hornet 46.

After a loss of yardage on a quarterback sack, and an offside call against the Hornets, the Rocks were at the Poplarville 44. Picking up a Smith pitchout, Rock fullback Vincent Bradley carried to the Hornet 28 for a first down. And on the following play, Bradley ran it to the 9 to start another series.

A Smith-Garrett connection moved the ball to the one-yard line, and with 3:12 left in the first quarter, Ascani put the Rocks on the scoreboard.

Heitzmann's PAT kick was off the mark, and the Rockchaws led 6-0.

On the next Hornet series, Poplarville began their drive on their own 38, and on 4 first downs moved the ball to the SSC 3. With 8:44 showing on the second quarter clock, Hornet Maurice Hammond tied the score 6-6. The Hornet's PAT attempt was no good.

Taking the ball on the next Rock reception, Ascani bobbled the ball but recovered his fumble at the SSC 17. Three first-downs later, the Rockchaws were at the Hornet 2.

On third down of the second series, Ascani carried from the Hornet 48 to the 31 to pick up a first. Then Bradley took it up the middle to the 2.

With just over 4 minutes left in the first half, the Rocks fumbled at the goal and the Hornets recovered for a touchback.

Starting their next drive at their own 20, the Hornets moved to the 30 on a penalty call but were held to no-gain on their first attempt at moving the ball by Rocks Craig Sweeney and Ken Booker.

Moving the ball to the Rock 45, the Hornets attempted a long pass that was foiled by Heitzmann. On the next play, Sweeney sacked the Hawk QB for a loss of nine. Then, Rock Scott Neaise stopped Mixon in his tracks at the Rock 32.

The Hornets next play was foiled by Rock Paul Johnson and Booker blocked a Hawk pass to kill the Poplarville drive at the Rockchaw 6 to leave the score tied at the half.

On reception in the second half, Shannon Garrett carried to the Rock 18, followed by an Ascani run to the 21. The Smith-Garrett pass connection moved the ball to the 30. Garrett was hit hard on the reception, but he managed to hold on.

Unable to move the ball, the Rocks were stopped at their own 35 and Sweeney punted. The Hornet's Mixon bobbled on the punt reception, and Rock fullback David Alexander recovered for SSC at the Hornet 26.

On first down, QB Smith found Garrett open on a long pass and the Rock runner scurried for a TD with 8:33 showing on the third quarter clock moving the Rockchaws to a 12-6 margin. The point after attempt for two failed.

Starting their next drive at their 38-yard line, the Hornets moved the ball steadily to a half yard out from the goal line. With 5:08 left in the third quarter, Poplarville tied the score on a power play by Hammond, and picked up an extra point on the kick to move ahead 13-12.

After swapping series, the Rock defense held the Hornets and SSC took over at their own 23 early in the final period.

A completed pass on a Smith-Heitzmann connection moved the ball to the 32. And Booker moved it to the Hornet 48 on another Smith completion.

On second down of the next series, Booker connected again on a pass and carried to the Hornet 18.

Running straight up the middle on sheer power, Bradley carried to the 3.

With 7:32 left, Bradley again powered through for another Rock score. The PAT pass failed, and the Rocks led 18-13.

Bobbling the ball on reception, the Hornets forfeited the ball to Rockback Sean Sewell at the Hornet 46, but the Rockchaws couldn't capitalize on the break and were forced to punt after three plays.

With only minutes left in the game, Garrett intercepted a pass for SSC only to have it called back on a clipping charge.

The Hornets continued their drive, and with 56 seconds left in the game ran from their 24

Malley-Williams

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL DUSTIN MALLEY

Virginia Lorraine Williams of Gulfport became the bride of Michael Dustin Malley of Pearlport in an evening ceremony September 2 at the Olivet Baptist Church in Gulfport.

The bride is the daughter of Jerry and Sammie Williams of Gulfport. The groom is the son of Ms. Dottie Adams of Metairie, La.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of pearl white crystal organza and satin, featuring a Queen Anne neckline and fitted bodice, which was fashioned with a cathedral length train. A Juliet headpiece held a lace bordered veil of illusion.

Paula Spivey of Gulfport was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Quirna Martenez of Gulfport, Dawn Hockett of Pass Christian and Tracey Lindsay of Gulfport, cousins of the bride; and Kim Holden of New Orleans, cousin of the groom.

Gabby Mitchell of Pearlport was flower girl.

Best man was Chip Bennett of Pearlport.

Groomsmen were Byron Williams of Gulfport, brother of the bride; Kyle McCaleb of Biloxi; and Bubba Bennett and Wayne McCarty, both of Pearlport.

Ushers were Samuel Williams of Bamburgh, Germany, brother of the bride and Donald Decker of Long Beach.

Ring bearer was Michael Rodriguez of Gulfport.

On return from a wedding trip to Mobile, the couple will reside in Morgan City, La.

Parker-Carr

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Parker Sr. of Waveland announce the engagement of their daughter, Regina Lynn Parker, to Hubert Allen Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Carr Sr. of Lumberton.

The couple will be joined in marriage on October 29 at 2 p.m. at Elder Ridge Missionary Baptist Church in Lumberton.

Miss Parker is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Parker of Hartselle, Ala. and Mrs. Margaret Shanahan of Jackson and the late Johnnie Shanahan.

Mr. Carr is the grandson of Mrs. Margaret Carr of Lumberton and the late Hubert Carr and Mr. and Mrs. John Allen of South Carolina.

Duprey-Aime

The approaching marriage of Connie M. Duprey of Kiln to Edmond K. (Gus) Aime is announced by her parents, Earlene Kornman of Pass Christian and Fred (Ed) Duprey Jr. of Waveland. Aime is the son of Edmond V. Aime of Bay St. Louis and Janet Aime of Waveland.

Miss Duprey is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School and received a bachelor of science degree in sociology from the University of Southern Mississippi. She is assistant administrator at Driftwood Nursing Home in Gulfport.

The prospective groom is a graduate of St. Stanislaus High School. He received a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice from the University of Southern Mississippi and is employed with the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will be the setting for the October 15 marriage at 7 p.m. A reception will follow at the Jourdan River Shores Club House. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Ballet Mississippi premieres season

Ballet Mississippi will open its 1988-89 season Friday, Oct. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Jackson Municipal Auditorium with two Jackson premieres and a revival from the 1986-87 season.

Tchaikovsky Variations, a classical ballet choreographed by Ballet Mississippi artistic director Alan Woodard, will begin the evening's entertainment. This premiere presentation will showcase the talents of the entire company of professional dancers.

Occupying the central spot on the program will be the humorous ballet Harry. An audience favorite from the 1986-87 season, this story ballet is danced to the music of composer Zoltan Kodaly. Four members of Ballet Mississippi's Youth Ballet will augment the professional company for this work choreographed by Woodard.

The evening's closing ballet Summer Interlude is danced to the music of Strauss and includes both waltzes and polkas.

Lighting and technical assistance for the performance is provided by Bill Kickbush. Wardrobe manager and costumer is Jeannette Denman.

Ticket prices are $7, $9, $11 and $12.50. For information call 960-1560.

'Grand Affair' fashion show to benefit Coast Arts Council

Morton Myles, New York fashion designer, will be the featured guest at a New York-style runway fashion show Tuesday night, Oct. 18.

This fashion show and dinner are being called 'A Grand Affair' to benefit the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council. The 'Grand Affair' will take place at the Biloxi Hilton with a cash bar and entertainment beginning at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the fashion show to follow.

Morton Myles' New York fall, holiday and resort collection will be flown in and featured in this fast-paced fashion showing.

Morton Myles is used to being the first to try an idea in fashion: he was the first to use heavy coatweight fabrics in dresses, the first to show boots on a runway (women only wore them when it rained), the first with evening 'hot pants' under floor-length bejewelled coattresses, the first to rebel against the wearing of 'dyed-to-match' shoes with an outfit (he sent the models down the runway barefoot), the first—in the 80's, to return to elegantly mannered eveningwear—although some of those were woven with clear plastic lurex!

His first design position on Seventh Avenue was for Herbert Sondheim as an anonymous 'house' designer. His anonymity ended soon after Diana Vreeland brought a young senator's wife to his design studio to purchase his designs—the young woman was Jacqueline Kennedy.

Amy Peoples, fashion director for Gayfers, feels "A Grand Affair" will definitely be the most exciting and elegant fashion event the Gulf Coast has seen. Myles has limited his travels to only three shows this season, and we are extremely fortunate that he will be appearing in Mississippi.

Gayfers is the sponsor of the Morton Myles fashion show and appearance.

Mrs. James Cooper, president of the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council and Mrs. J. William Puckett, fashion show chairperson both encourage individuals and businesses to call in early to reserve a table and/or seating for this once in a decade fashion gala.

The $25 per person tickets, which include the fashion show and dinner may be reserved by contacting the Arts Council Office, P.O. Box 4091, Biloxi, MS 39535, phone number 388-1976. All proceeds go to the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council, which promotes the appreciation and participation in all the arts.

HNC TALENT SHOW

The Hancock North Central High School Drama Club will present a Talent Show Thursday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for children.

EDUCATION NOTES

LITERACY AND CHILDREN

'First Things First,' the latest public television documentary in the Project Literacy U.S. (PLUS) campaign, stresses doing things right from the very earliest stages of life.

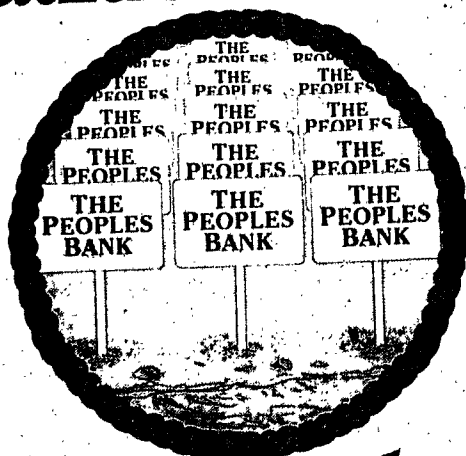

This year PLUS moves into its new phase, Youth/PLUS, focusing on young children and literacy. 'First Things First' kicks off this phase at 9 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 19, on Mississippi ETV.

The documentary explains that children who grow up in an environment of books and reading do become readers. Those who do not grow up in this kind of environment often run the risk of never learning to read and pose the threat of passing illiteracy on to another generation.

In different segments, the program illustrates several success stories in young people's literacy and warns that children who do not grow up in an environment of books and reading run the risk of becoming illiterate.

Phylicia Rashad, co-star of NBC's 'The Cosby Show,' is host of 'First Things First.'

Reflections

Life is ever upbeat

By Fr. Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Fresh back from a two-week vacation in Chicago, Brother Theophane observed: "This is my home here at the seminary. I have been here most of my life. My next home will be across the street."

His allusion was to the seminary cemetery which lies across Seminary Drive to the west, and which is in direct view of most locations and buildings on the property to the east.

"No, brother!" I shot back emphatically. "That will never be your home. That will be only the depository of that wonderful mortal part of you which was served you so well for 89 years. Your next home will be where all of us want to go."

Of course, the good brother knew all this. He simply wanted to put us on notice just how aware he is of his age, of his chances for additional years of life, and of his readiness for eternity.

The older you get, the more you realize that your road through life is strikingly shorter than it has been heretofore. That is a bleak, morbid thought if you labor under the belief that it is one of life's greatest evils to watch our allotted time run out.

As a matter of fact, it is one of life's greatest evils to watch our allotted time run out. The point is that we cannot afford to stand, sit or lie by idly and watch it run out.

Life is such a unique and fantastic privilege from God that everything about it is upbeat—even death. As our dear ones and we scale the ladder of years together, we can grow morbid, sour and resentful as we see the final rungs coming into sight.

However, this would not only be dumb and self-defeating, but it is also not real, not according to the facts of life. The facts of life simply are that God privileged us to live at least a few precious years on earth, then to enjoy eternal life.

No matter how brief our time here, it is a privilege which we could never have deserved; in fact, could never have asked for. It came to us totally gratis, we enjoy our measure of years, mostly gratis, and we receive eternal life completely gratis.

So unique is our privilege of life that it will occur but once in all of history, in all eternity. There will be no repeat, no second chance to make good what we have missed or bungled.

"You only go around once," as commercialized by the beers and other businesses, is so true that it can jolt you severely into depression that life won't last long or into a tizzy over what to do with the precious, fleeting moments granted to you.

If you are not alert and careful, cynicism and despair can quickly become your bedfellows when you consider that your life will soon evaporate almost as rapidly as a shifting cloud.

With equal ease and disaster, you may swing to the opposite extreme, forsaking depression and despair for a feverish pursuit of "the good life" and for an abandon born of such urgency that no other considerations can get in the way.

But do not get caught up into the "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we may die" syndrome, even though it has a grain of truth in its philosophy. Ultimate despair is all you will get from that dead-end philosophy which rejects any future hope.

Rather, twist that mindless philosophy around to read, "Savor fully this day, for it is all that you can have at any given time."

This is no death watch in which we wait for the bell to toll while we agonize over our own and the deterioration of our loved ones. Rather, this is a life vigil in which we give thanks for and celebrate what we have while we await the fullness of Jesus.

ANNUNCIATION

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

The St. Vincent de Paul organization of Annunciation Catholic Church in Kiln will sponsor a "garage sale" Saturday Nov. 5, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. in the gymnasium on Kiln-Fenton Road.

A vast array of items, large and small, will be offered for sale including furniture, books, household items, children's clothes and toys.

Other things include tools, winter coats and sweaters, shoes, purses, costume jewelry and bric-a-brac. Proceeds will benefit the underprivileged of the parish.

Persons wishing to donate items may take them to the rectory.

Christian music's White Heart to appear at Coast Coliseum

Since their debut six years ago, White Heart has established a reputation for being one of Christian music's most talented, aggressive and diverse bands. The last two years, however, have brought the Nashville-based group newfound unity and success.

White Heart's 1986 release, "Don't Wait for the Movie," featured three No. 1 radio singles and garnered a Dove Award nomination. The band is currently touring the country in support of their recent release on Sparrow Records, "Emergency Broadcast."

Their new cutting-edge rock sound reveals that White Heart has grown—musically and personally—from where they were when Billy Smiley and Mark Gersmehl founded the group back in 1981. Since then, the band has recorded five top-selling albums and performed hundreds of concerts throughout the country.

White Heart's current lineup is composed of Tommy Simms, bass guitar; Rick Florian, lead vocals; Chris McHugh, drums; Gordon Kennedy, guitar/vocals; Smiley, rhythm guitar/vocals; and Gersmehl, keyboards/vocals.

"I don't think I've ever seen a band with as many different lifestyles and varieties of upbringing as ours," says Smiley. "In the last two years, though, we've really seen a single purpose emerge."

That purpose: to reach young people with real-life lyrics that speak to their hearts, transmitted through the energy and sound of today's rock and roll.

Nowhere is White Heart's new sound more evident than on their latest release, "Emergency Broadcast," a 10-song album.

White Heart will appear in concert at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available at Christian bookstores, record stores, locations and the Coliseum box office.

Hypertension treatment featured on tv series

How the treatment of hypertension has evolved in recent years from the general use of diuretics and other medications to a more specific regimen tailored to the needs of the individual patient is to be discussed in a series of television programs Oct. 9, 16 and 23.

The programs are on Lifetime television of the cable news network and can be seen on Channel 34. Called "Physician Journal Update," the three programs feature Dr. Edward D. Frohlich, vice president and director of academic affairs of the Ochsner Medical Institutions where he is also the "Alton Ochsner Distinguished Scientist." Dr. Frohlich has been a nationally recognized leader in hypertension research for the past three decades and has served on numerous national and international groups involved in research and treatment of hypertension.

The program on Oct. 9 deals with the fourth report on hypertension of the Joint National Committee on Hypertension. The report deals with the current concepts in the detection, evaluation and treatment of patients with high blood pressure. Dr. Frohlich has served on the National Institutes of Health Committee which makes the recommendations.

The second program, on Oct. 16, is concerned with the treatment of hypertension in special segments of the population such as blacks and the aged. The third program, on Oct. 23, deals with the problems of left ventricular hypertrophy, or enlarged heart which can sometimes result from hypertension.

The series begins with a discussion of the use of non-drug means for treatment of hypertension. These include weight reduction, sodium restriction, alcohol restriction (to less than one ounce per day as there is more data now which shows that alcohol intake will raise blood pressure), and cessation of smoking.

The second program on Oct. 16 deals with the broadened base of treatment for hypertension. We now have four classes of drugs to use in the treatment of hypertension. They are diuretics, beta-blockers, and the newer calcium antagonists and the angiotensin converting enzyme inhibitors. Now we can better individualize the drug treatments for the specified problems of different patient populations. For example, we now know that hypertension in the elderly, in the black population and those with cardiac problems takes a varying form.

promising, County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson said. The county makes that area so unlikely to be eligible for a permit that the 11 test borings take anywhere from one to two years, according to a state official who recently addressed the board. Several board members said they would be in the area to see the work.
